

guido van helvoort

546 W 147th Street, 4E
New York, NY 10031
347.248.2047

Work Experience:

Social Design Project, New York, NY (January 2006 - present)

Social Design Project is a collective of professionals in multiple disciplines of design

Web Designer & Co Founder

- Designing and development of websites for individual clients using Flash, HTML and Javascript
- Development of original graphics, logos, animations and design layouts

Columbia University, Business School (December 2006 - present)

Semester Abroad/ Research Assistant

- Developing research software in HTML, Javascript & PHP

MouselabWEB, Eindhoven, Netherlands (October 2005 - present)

Software Development Assistant

- Improving User Interface Design and Participate in beta testing
- Developing installation guide and help documentation

Operator Group Delft, Eindhoven, Netherlands (August 2004 - November 2004)

ICT Help Desk Operator

- Provide direct software & hardware assistance to faculty/ staff of large schooling community
- Registration & maintainance of problems and errors database

Education:

Columbia University, New York
Technological University of Eindhoven
Technological University of Eindhoven

Semester abroad, Business School
M. S., Human Technology Interaction (Expected June 2007)
B. S., Technology Innovation Sciences

Skills & Interests:

Balanced insight in technology, psychology and design. Excellent in communicating with both IT professionals and clients. Self starter, able to develop projects with or without client involvement. Strong layout and design skills through designing efficient and intuitive user interfaces.

Computer Skills:

Profound knowledge of PC/Mac/Linux platforms; software includes Macromedia Flash, Dreamweaver, XHTML, Javascript PHP/ MySQL Databases, Cascading Style Sheets (CSS), Adobe Photoshop, Illustrator, Audition, Paint Shop Pro, Matlab, Borland Delphi, Microsoft Office.

References available upon request.